* Classroom Protocols

Classroom Protocol

The class should be a safe space for every student to learn, express and grow. The environment should be a medium for self-discovery, doubt, experimentation and new challenges. Through basic empathy and respect, deep conversations about philosophy, artistic concept and content, and visual communications should be at the center of every interaction and conversation.

You should be on time, prepared for class and prepared to give your full attention. It is equally important that you have eaten, used the facilities and have had proper sleep the night before so that you can fully engage with the teacher and your fellow students. If for any reason you miss a class or any portion thereof, it is your responsibility to review Canvas, speak with your fellow classmates, or come to my office hours to understand what you need to do to remain current with all lessons.

Cell phones, music devices and any other distractions to yourself and others around you are not permitted unless approved for class purposes. If improperly used your participation grade will be affected.

Since each class will be taught via zoom, each student needs to have their camera on, microphone off when not speaking, and be engaged. This is a professional educational setting, so attire and actions during class should be commensurate. In other words, no drinking of alcohol, looking at other technology (telephone, TV, etc.) or inappropriate behavior will be tolerated. Remember, you are attending a collage course, so please maintain respect for the institution, yourself and fellow students, and the professor.

No class will be recorded to allow every student the opportunity to freely express themselves. If you need to tape or record any portion of class, each student must follow University protocol with announcements and permissions.

University Policies

General Expectations, Rights and Responsibilities of the Student

As members of the academic community, students accept both the rights and responsibilities incumbent upon all members of the institution. Students are encouraged to familiarize themselves with SJSU's policies and practices pertaining to the procedures to follow if and when questions or concerns about a class arises. # Grading Policy

Although this course will embrace flexibility and experimentation which are some of the benchmarks for success, there will be five main components that will be reviewed and evaluated throughout the semester. Each student will have ample time to make revisions to submit their best possible submission to receive the desired grade however quality and meeting deadlines will be paramount to receiving the best grade possible. Each component will comprise a percentage of your overall grade. The main elements for this course are: research / verbal presentation, conceiving and creating a performance artwork, curating a group exhibition, creating a collaborative based artwork, 3 presentations, and class participation. A full grade deduction will occur for every week the assignment is turned in late. Assignments will not be accepted after the second week past the due date. The assigned grade will be 59 points. Exceptions may be granted on a case by case situation.

Presentation:

Your five minute presentation should be a deep dive into your identity. Most importantly, this assignment should be introspective. Based on research, personal views, and class lectures and discussions, each student will need to deliver a five minute presentation on where they see themselves within the Art World. Are there biases or benefits you are receiving? What are the current trends and how can you optimize them for yourself or the greater good. The presentation may be created on PowerPoint, keynote or google slides to the class on zoom. DO NOT upload or send me your presentation. Please see assignment for detailed grading structure. CLO 1, 2, 3, 5.

Performance art:

This assignment aims to allow the student to work outside their comfort zone and also experiment in an art discipline in the periphery of the Art World. You are to conceive and create a new artwork but rather than an object you will create a live performance. The performance artwork must be documented through videos and photo stills. The artwork may be created for only personal expression, small viewing or a large audiences. The artwork should address discussions on body; activism, performance, interactive art. Please consider breaking your comfort zone. Who is your audience is? It is preferable that you participate in the performance but you can also create and direct it instead. A link to your performance artwork will need to be emailed to me so I may view, comment and grade the assignment. NO ONE other than myself will see this performance, however students will have the opportunity to share them with the class if desired.

A 1 page artist statement explaining the thought behind the artwork, personal and / or social value and meaning, risks and challenges, and outcomes such as audience reactions or personal growth of overcoming issues should also be submitted with the link to your performance piece. CLO 1, 2, 3, 5.

Curated group exhibition:

Each student will play “curator” for this assignment. Based on class interaction concentrating on spiritual and environmental concerns, each student will curate a contemporary art exhibition. The exhibition will exist as a virtual show and accessible online through a dedicated website. You may use a simple and free website template on a free platforms or code a special website if you have the time and skill. The “curator” will develop their theme and make all the artist and artwork selections. Each artwork will require a caption and a narrative as to the value and importance of the artwork and how it connects to the other artworks. Naturally, through the selection of at least 8 artworks, your overall narrative should be palpable. You should cull from art history, fellow students and even yourself as the basis of your exhibition. At least half of your selected artists / artworks should be established artists with a professional exhibition history. Feel free to include yourself, if appropriate, however this is not a requirement. You will need to email me the link to your www.

All promotional materials such as poster design, social media outreach and press release will need to be created and utilized. CLO 1, 2, 3, 4, 5.

Collective artwork (with at least one other person) you must create an artwork and present it to the class at the FINAL to receive credit:

You are challenged to create an artwork through a collaborative process. This means rather than working alone in a silo, you will determine who to collaborate with and what artwork you will make. Materiality, narrative, scale is completely up to you. The only requirement is working with other people and/or artists. You may partner with family members, other students, past professors to realize your content based work on what was covered during the entire semester in this course.

You will need to submit a pdf. The pdf should include a 1 page narrative / description which includes your description and another 1 page with the conceptual underpinnings of the inspiration and hopeful outcome of the artwork. You may include information about the process and your successes and failures as a portion of either essay. In addition to the text components, please include overall photos of the artwork as well as detail images. CLO 1, 2, 3, 4, 5.

Presentations:

There will be three 5 min presentations that you will perform to the class. They are based on your completed assignments.

Class participation:

Each class will be very interactive, reactionary, and hopefully fun. Participation and the ability to share your thoughts in an unedited but constructive yet respectful fashion will help cut to the chase and get to the true substance of each lecture, discussion and idea. Each class will be divided into lecture and process time. The teacher will lead the lecture portion of the class followed by a Q & A period. In this period, it is anticipated that you will come with thoughts, images, and questions to further the discussion.
